BPI US PARTNERS INTRODUCES SPECIALIZED CAREER DEVELOPMENT OFFERINGS FOR THE C-SUITE

- Executive Advisory Services to Focus on Senior Leaders -

CHICAGO, June 23, 2008 - BPI US Partners, a leading HR consulting and high-level executive development and coaching firm, today announced the launch of a new practice area specializing in counseling and supporting senior executives undergoing career and business transformations. The new Executive Advisory Services practice pairs senior leaders with highly experienced coaching professionals. As trusted advisors, Executive Advisory Services coaches focus on addressing the highly specialized needs executives face as they navigate through career transitions and/or move to new stages in their professional lives.

C-level executives who participate in the Executive Advisory Services program will benefit from a comprehensive array of services, including:

- Mission/value proposition development
- Personal career assessments
- Personal business plan development and implementation
- Professional advice and executive coaching (including transition management and strategy, and onboarding coaching)
- Connections to executive level networking contacts
- Access to the Executive Advisory Board, an elite team comprising peer-level, C-Suite executives in a variety of industries and functions
- Personalized research, administrative and technology support worldwide
- Spouse, partner and family consulting and support

"Given the challenges inherent in today's economic environment, particularly for C-Suite executives, there has never been a greater need for the work we're doing," said Michael Buckman, managing director of Executive Advisory Services, BPI US Partners. "Our executive coaching and consulting services are designed to support clients throughout the duration of their careers and their lives - not only as they move from one organization to another. Recognizing the benefits and support executives will derive from our Executive Advisory Services, I am eager to bring this new capability and specialized approach to BPI US Partners' clients throughout the world."

Headquartered in downtown Chicago, the Executive Advisory Services team is a highly qualified group of senior coaches, most with P&L experience, who average more than 15 years of experience in the industry. Current clients range from the C-Suite officers of global Fortune 100 corporations to senior executives of mid-sized regional firms.

Through BPI US Partners' parent company BPI Group, the world's third-largest career management firm based in Paris, France, Executive Advisory Services clients have access to the company's broad global network, support and resources no matter where in the world they want to be.
